

Frontispiece to Christopher Saxton's Atlas of the Counties of England and Wales, published in 1579, the first atlas of any country. It contained 35 maps, each bearing the arms of Elizabeth I and Thomas Seckford, Saxton's patron.

