1. Honest Ben and the Two Tribes He Hath Left Us
by Gabriel Andrew Ready ................................. 7

2. Knowledge Ill-Inhabited: The Subjugation of Post-Stratfordian Scholarship in Academic Libraries
by Michael Dudley .............................................. 27

3. Spinning Shakespeare
by Don Rubin ....................................................... 63

4. A Nearly Forgotten Article by J. Thomas Looney
Introduction by James Warren .............................. 79

5. Is Greene’s Groats-worth of Wit about Shakespeare, or By Him?
by Robert Prechter .............................................. 95

by Julie Harper Elb ............................................. 133

7. Subliminal Chaucer in Shakespeare’s History Plays
by Michael Delahoyde ......................................... 153

8. The Rediscovery of Shakespeare’s Greater Greek by Earl Showerman ............................................ 163

9. Oxfordian Theory and Continental Drift by James Warren .................................................. 193